Valley Farmers Your Attention

(From Wednesday's Examiner)

From now on the Examiner intends to ask all successful farmers of the Yuma valley to give this paper a plain statement of facts relative to profits derived from their farming operations. What we want to do is to advertise the truth about the Yuma valley, and it has been thought that perhaps the best way to do this was to secure just plain statements of profit from the farmers themselves.

Now we take it that every farmer in the valley is as interested, or should be, in the booming of Yuma and the valley, as is the Examiner.

With this in mind, here is what we want:

Nearly every farmer in the valley has made a signal success of some one crop. Now the plain truth about this particular crop, whether it was fruit, grain, vegetables or anything else is what we want.

You need not bother to write the article unless you want to. Give us the facts. When was the crop or fruit planted or sowed?

How long to mature or to bear?
How many acres or what part of an acre was tried?

How was it marketed or sold?
What was the profit after deducting the expenses?

How much expense was connected with it approximately?

At what do you value the land?

Now those are the things the Examiner wants and we are going on the theory that the plain truth is the best way to advertise this valley and its many diversified crops to the world at large.

Now who will be the first farmer to give us this information about any crop that he has grown?

There cannot be too many of them. It does not matter to this paper if there are one hundred. They will all be published, one or two or two or three every day.

No man is limited to one crop or to one letter. Write as many as you wish. The more the merrier, and the better advertising the valley will get.

Now will the farmers do this?

Republican Candidates To Elect Chairman

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 6—The Republican state committee met in the assembly hall at the capitol at 10:00 o'clock to-day and passed a resolution leaving the election of the chairman and secretary to candidates.

The latter will meet to-night and will probably choose J. Lorenzo Hubbell for chairman. The committees will meet again to-night and ratify their choice. The platform will be adopted Wednesday at a meeting of the party council and candidates. The Republican senatorial candidates issued a statement calling upon Republican candidates for the legislature to pledge themselves to abide by the advisory vote of the United States senators.

A visit to the Yuma Heights Fruit ranch now shows that they are already shipping oranges, grape fruit and lemons.

The Yuma Ice Company's soda water is the best. Only pure distilled water is used in its manufacture, therefore it is also the most healthful. Drink no other.

Hon. Frank Baxter expects to leave for Agua Caliente to-night for a week's rest before beginning his campaign.

Brawley People Boosting Good Road

(From Tuesday's Examiner)

To-day A. B. Ming received the following letter from Brawley:

Brawley, Cal., Nov. 3, 1911.
A. B. Ming, Yuma, Arizona.

Dear Sir:
Well, we have got things moving on this end at last. We will send out about 5 teams and 1 men to fix the road through the wash, northeast of Brawley, and when we have that fixed we will try and fix up the sand places near Glamis.

Part of this money is being supplied by Mr. Wills, the supervisor for this district and part by subscription of the Brawley people.

We do not know about that part of the road near Yuma, that is, the part from Yuma to Ogilby, as that is not in this supervisor's district, in fact, it is in the district of the Calexico supervisor, and we hardly think we will be able to get him to do anything.

As you know, there will not be much work to do there; a few of the banks of the washes to cut down and then have the road sign boarded.

Now I wonder if the Yuma people could get together and do this work. I know it is asking you to spend money outside of your county, but we are anxious to get this work done by the time the Westgard people arrive, and we thought we might depend on you people for that end.

When does this party arrive in Yuma and to whom could we write to influence them to come this road from Yuma to Brawley?

Thanking you in advance for your kind attention and trusting to hear from you in the near future,

Yours sincerely,
R. C. JECKELL.

In regard to the latter part of the above letter, Mr. Ming informs the Examiner that Billy Horan, of the road district just across the river, has already taken up this end of the above road with his supervisor, and that he has asked for money enough to fix all the bad spots on this end of the Imperial county road.

It will be remembered that Mr. Ming and Amos Adams were the first ones to go over this road and spy it out, and at the same time interest the valley people, and for this and their boosting they certainly deserve the thanks of all.

Girls in Male Attire Elude Mesa Officers

Mesa, Nov. 3—Frank Vance is a deputy sheriff, and in his official capacity undertook to aid Marshal Peterson in the enforcement of the ordinances for the preservation of the peace on Hallowe'en. A bevy of girls in male attire caught his eye as he was returning home, and after a little ogling, Frank pinned his star on the outside of his vest, side tracked his wife, and fastening an eagle eye on the offending maidens, made a wild dash for them and landed in a water ditch, while the girls lit out for home.

Taft Ready For Tour of South

Cincinnati, Nov. 6—President Taft arrived from Hot Springs, Va., early to-day. He will remain here until tomorrow night when he will leave for a tour of Kentucky and Tennessee.

Wenden Lot Sale

The Parker Post says:
The sale of Wenden town lots was not as successful as expected.

Owing to the law governing the sale the number of lots offered was limited, only enough to pay off the indebtedness.

For this reason no great effort was made to attract a crowd, but at some future day another sale is to be held, when the limit will be taken off, at which time a barbecue and other attractions will be offered to secure a good attendance from outside points.

Child Searching for Gold Lost in Hills

Nashville, Ind., Nov. 6—Going in search of the end of the rainbow, which came out brightly as the sun was going down the other evening, Jennie, the 7-year-old child of James McCord, in the southern part of Brown county, was lost from her parents for more than four hours.

The child heard members of the family telling the old story of the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow and unnoticed she walked down the lane to the gateway near the barn, where she crawled through and went across a field. When she was missed, a hurried search began, but it was not until four hours later that she was found.

University Students Now Number 258

The Tucson Citizen says:
The registration at the University of Arizona is 258 to date. This number is considerably greater than any previous enrollment at the university. Last year the total enrollment was only 195. Now the university is expecting a few more students at the beginning of the second semester in February. The registration for the year is likely to run to 275, a gain of nearly 30 per cent.

Cow Fights Another Which Attacks Woman

Kansas City, November 6—A cow took sides against its own kind in an encounter between Mrs. Kate Vermillion, of Fieber, and another cow.

Mrs. Vermillion is the wife of a farmer, and had gone to the pasture to gather persimmons. She was attacked by the cow and picked up a stick to drive the animal off, but it became more infuriated and knocked her down.

The second cow then came up and attacked the other cow, while Mrs. Vermillion crawled out of the way.

She was taken to her home and is in a dangerous condition.

Cameron and Smith Issue Signed Statements

Our attention has been called to the statement that certain Democratic legislative candidates have openly declared their willingness if elected to be guided by the advisory vote of the people for United States senators.

We wish our position on this matter to be known to the people whose suffrage we seek, in the advance of the election. We would spurn with contempt an election at the hands of a Republican legislature that would have the audacity to disregard the advisory vote of the people, and we call upon all Republican candidates for the legislature to pledge themselves forthwith that they will, in the event of their election, abide by the advisory vote of the people for the United States senators. And should a majority of the legislature be Republican, and either or both of our Democratic opponents receive the advisory vote, that they will keep faith with the people of Arizona, and promptly ratify the people's choice as expressed in their advisory vote for U. S. senators on December 12.
